

MRS. ROOSEVELT TALKS IN COUNTY

Speaks in Arlington, Lauds Part Women Now Take in Government.

Frauding women for the keen interest they manifest in "public housekeeping," Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told members of the Organized Women Voters of Arlington County yesterday their sex should continue its participation in governmental affairs.

"Democracies are on trial, and because we are freer than most countries we have a greater responsibility in preserving our democracy," said Mrs. Roosevelt, honor guest and principal speaker at the Virginia club's 15th anniversary celebration at Washington Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Roosevelt declared that women take more interest in public affairs than men and cited as proof the letters she has received in regard to dissolution of the National Training School for Girls.

"Men have taken it for granted that the school was to be discontinued, but women have gone on fighting for it tenaciously," she declared.

Increasing Interest.

Mrs. Roosevelt told her audience women should study their immediate environment and stated that while women are busy with household affairs and do not meet many persons with whom they can discuss government problems, they have shown increasing interest in such matters in recent years.

She expressed the belief that the menace of war has been a stimulus to women's interest and added that "if there is war everything will be spoiled and changed. So we must study what is being done abroad, and when we study foreign affairs we study our own Government as well."

Stressing the importance of accuracy, she said that public opinion to be of value must now be based on partial information and recommended the study of impartial sources as a basis of knowledge.

Mrs. Roosevelt recommended that every one should do some sort of public work and keep the interest in it alive, saying that "as we do less and less, our influence and value to society diminishes."

Introduced by Mrs. Simpson.

In introducing Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Julian D. Simpson, president of the Organized Women Voters, referred to her as "the first First Lady to become First Lady in her own right."

Other honor guests were Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint; Mrs. Lucille Foster McMillan of the Civil Service Commission, and Mrs.

John W. Rust, wife of State Senator Rust of Fairfax County.

Alternating at the tea table were Mrs. Howard Worth Smith, wife of the Representative from Virginia; Mrs. William D. Medley, wife of the Representative to the House of Delegates of Virginia; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Magruder, chairman of the County Board; Mrs. J. M. Roberts and Mrs. J. B. Lowell, past presidents of the Organized Women Voters, and Mrs. Herbert Marcy, vice president of the group.

U. S. TARIFFS BLAMED

Editor Also Cites Control of Commerce in Cotton's Decline.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14 (AP).—Peter Molyneux, Dallas, Tex., editor told a convention of business men yesterday that high tariffs and control of interstate commerce were responsible for the decline of the United States in world production of cotton.

"Remedy these two policies that form such a topheavy structure for our cotton market and we will go ahead," he told the Southern hardware jobbers and the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association.

Mr. Molyneux, editor of the Texas Weekly and the Southern Banker, added: "The high tariff is no longer a policy the United States can retain and still keep the prosperity of all its people intact."
